New Branch at JHU!

Volunteer Hub Updates

Volunteer Hub Updates

We are excited to start using this portion of the website to engage our volunteers and connect them with the children at the orphanages. With an easy set-up and an integrated task system, volunteers can become a part of the family much easier!

New Branch at John Hopkins University!

Stay tuned for more information about this new branch! Particularly interested in formulating an appropriate curriculum for health education, Indira Rayala is spearheading the efforts in JHU to keep the children at the orphanage better informed about their health.
